Dear Patricia::

I spoke to our patent attorneys about this matter. Fedex was unable to deliver my package to Andres Rojero, and Humberto Hernandez received his package, or at least someone at that address did, but did not return the papers to me. Is there anyone there in Monclova that can help locate these individuals, so that we do not end up losing the patent? Please let me know if anything can be done.

Hi again!

I attempted to reach these persons in order to get some documents for the United States Patent Office signed. I have not yet received a response from Humberto, and we are unable to contact Andres at the last know address. Can you please send to me any agreements they signed stating that any inventions they participated in are the property of the corporation? I am not sure what the document is called there, but I know that the engineers are all asked to sign it when they become employed.

Thanks for your help1
